

ABSTRACT

Disclosed is a flow control valve capable of controlling a flow amount of air, gas or fluid inside a pipe. The flow control valve has a relatively simple structure, which can reduce manufacturing expenses, minimize malfunction and wrong driving, and allow a rapid repair and replacement of components.